

AKHIL JOJI

Digital Marketing & Content Creator

I am a digital generalist who has acquired a diverse skill set—graphic design, video editing, audio editing, social media marketing & management, and more—not as a means to secure a job but out of pure interest and passion. I don't just "happen" to know these skills; I have honed them through hands-on experience, ensuring I know exactly what I'm doing.

Why You Should Hire Me

I have played key roles in startups, building their entire digital presence from scratch, handling everything from branding to execution. My experience extends beyond being a "jack of all trades"—I have the expertise and strategic vision to lead teams and execute projects effectively. Whether as an executive or a team lead, I bring a well-rounded, hands-on approach to digital growth and business success.
