PROFILE & CAREER OBJECTIVE

A Digital marketer with more than a decade of Online + Traditional media experience who prefers working with an organisation where my abilities and skills could contribute to both Corporate and Personal growth.

I've always been a strong believer that the path to excellence is to just give 100% every single time and then the results themselves would speak for my team. I've always noticed one thing that the pressure of results choke your performance. For me it is always the performance which comes first before the expected results. So I've always made sure to prioritize performance check points and then focus towards larger end goals.
