Experience

Ongoing editor

I am currently deeply involved in the process of editing a thought-provoking documentary in my role as the editor. My responsibilities include overseeing the entire post-production process, ensuring the narrative is compelling and cohesive. I collaborate closely with directors and producers to refine the storyline, manage footage organization, and execute precise cuts that enhance the documentary's impact. Additionally, I utilize advanced editing software to implement visual effects, sound design, and color correction, resulting in a polished final product. My work has been instrumental in meeting tight deadlines and maintaining high standards of quality, contributing significantly to the project's success.

assistant editor

I've worked as an assistant editor on two documentaries.
