As a Student Videographer and Lead Camera Operator, I spearheaded the visual documentation of high-profile college events, including festivals, inaugurations, and academic panel discussions. My role involved the end-to-end production of event highlights and archival videos, requiring high technical adaptability to varying lighting conditions and stage setups. By coordinating closely with production teams, I ensured seamless visual continuity and professional-grade coverage for a wide range of collegiate programs, building a versatile skill set in broadcast-style cinematography and live event management.
