PROJECTS

Down the Memory Lane:

An Analysis of Alzheimer's Disease in Three Movies Across Different Cultures and Age Groups: This project examines how Alzheimer's disease impacts the lives of people from different backgrounds and generations, and how it is portrayed in three films from different languages: The Father, Thanmathra, and A Moment to Remember.

Delving into the Labyrinth of the Mind

A Postmodern Interpretation of Christopher Nolan's Inception: This project explores the connections between Christopher Nolan's 2010 film Inception and the postmodern philosophy and art movement. The project analyzes the film's complex narrative, themes, and style, and shows how Inception reflects key aspects of postmodernism, such as the blurring of reality and fiction, the questioning of identity and truth, and the creation of the hyperreal.
