Work Experience

2022–2023

Content Writer

Ima mom

I am a B.Tech graduate in Food Technology who discovered a passion for writing during my studies, leading me to pivot into a career in content creation. With experience as a freelance content writer and copywriter across various industries, including food chain brands, product promotions, and service promotions for sectors like diagnostic centers, I have developed the ability to craft compelling narratives tailored to different audiences and objectives.

2023–2024

Content Writer

Soorya Diagnostics

My diverse background enables me to blend seamlessly into any firm, adapting my writing style to meet specific brand voices and marketing goals. I bring a unique combination of technical knowledge, creativity, and a strong work ethic, making me a valuable asset to teams looking for versatile and innovative content solutions. I am now seeking a stable position where I can contribute my skills and continue to grow as a professional writer.
