CAREER OBJECTIVES:

I am a results-driven Senior Sales Manager with 7 years of experience specializing in scaling sales operations for startups targeting enterprise clients. My expertise lies in building high-performing sales teams, crafting data-driven strategies, and nurturing long-term client relationships that drive sustainable revenue growth. Throughout my career, I have successfully managed complex B2B sales cycles, led cross-functional teams, and consistently exceeded ambitious sales targets. I thrive in dynamic environments, leveraging my strong negotiation skills, consultative selling approach, and deep understanding of enterprise client needs to deliver tailored solutions. My passion for innovation and continuous improvement enables me to adapt quickly to new markets and technologies, making me a valuable asset for organizations seeking to accelerate their sales performance and expand their client base.
